Eden Township is where Roxanna + William were found on the census.

EDEN TOWNSHIP.

Eden Township first formed a part of Camanche Precinct. In 1856, it was organized as a separate township. This is one of the finest farming townships in the county. It is well watered, its southern boundary being the Wapsie, and it is traversed from north to south near its center by Brophy's Creek. Much attention is given to stock-raising, and some of the finest farms and largest herds of cattle to be found in the county are in Eden Township. Its population, according to the last census, is about one thousand.

This township is less than a Congressional township in area, and includes portions of Townships 80 north, Range 5 east, and 81 north, Ranges 4 and 5 east, the principal area being in 81 north, Range 5 east.

Among the early settlers were James D. Bourne, Robert C. Bourne, John and Thomas Brophy, William Shelden (on the old Abbey place), J. D. and William A. Davidson, who entered the Cherrywood farm; Jonathan Waterbury, who lives on southwest quarter Section 4, Township 80 north, Range 5 east; William Simpson, who settled on the place now owned by the Payne Brothers; William Ten Eyck, who lived on the place now owned by Thomas McCone; John Maxson, who was a surveyor, and located on the place now owned by R. J. Dannatt; William Cope, who still resides on his claim.

In 1851, the English settlers came into this township and vicinity, among whom were Samuel Dannatt and his sons Benjamin, Thomas, Samuel and John, John Bower and his sons Thomas and Humphrey, George Hardy, George Hill and his son Thomas, George Pearson and his two sons Henry and George; and afterward came Thomas B. Dannatt, John B. Dannatt and C. B. Dannatt, John Tate and his sons William, Thomas and Charles, William Canty, George Houston, William Richardson and his sons William, Thomas and Amos. These nearly all came from the village of Killingholme in Lincolnshire, England, and, bringing capital with them, they bought out the original claim-takers and engaged in successful farming. They are thrifty and enterprising, largely engaged in stock-raising and feeding, and their broad fields, fine farm-houses and outbuildings make Eden Township a model one.

The first schoolhouse in the township was a log structure built in 1849, and stood upon the farm now occupied by Peter Hill in the Union district, which comprised in its limits then nearly the whole township. There are now nine school districts in the township, all being provided with neat and commodious school-buildings.

There are but two churches in the township—the Methodist Church at Low Moor and a chapel at Malone, which was erected under the auspices of the Baptist Church at De Witt. Low Moor is a post village, and is situated on Section 22, Township 81, Range 51, in Eden Township.

Low Moor is an outgrowth of the Chicago & North-Western Railway, and is a station on that road. It was surveyed and platted in the spring of 1858, the original proprietors being J. Tong, Wilson Mudgett and Milo Smith. The first house was built by William Gulick; the second, by Richard Wagner, and the third by Roswell B. Millard, who was the first station agent and Postmaster. The post office was established in August, 1857, on the opening of the railroad and before the platting, but the town had been projected and its name selected. George Weston, P. J. Schuyler, Charles Seward and John M. Haskill have succeeded to the honors and emoluments of the postmastership, the latter being the present incumbent. The population is about two hundred. A neat frame school-building, with commodious grounds in a beautiful maple grove, accommodates its "Young Americas," the attendance at which is about seventy.

The Methodist Church is a small, but very tasty frame building, in the Gothic style, and seats about four hundred. It was erected in 1869, at a cost of about $3,600.

Religious services were held in the "Jones" Schoolhouse in the early days. It was then in Camanche, in what is now District No. 1, in Eden. All denominations held their meetings here. In 1858, a class was organized, and, at this date, the organization of the Low Moor Methodist Church can be properly reckoned. When the railroad was opened and a population began to gather there, this was thought to be a more central point, and at first the meetings were held in the depot until the schoolhouse was erected in 1867, which was occupied for religious services until the completion of the church. The Church now numbers about fifty members. It is at present attached to Camanche, and the Pastor is Rev. W. E. McCormac.

A stock company own and operate a steam grist-mill. The building was formerly a grain warehouse. The machinery was put in in the spring of 1878. It has two runs of stones.

Mr. Dannatt, in erecting a fine store-building, provided the people of Low Moor with a commodious public hall on the second floor.

MURDERS.

In the fall of 1848, a murder was committed in Center Township. John Foley, an Irishman, was murdered by a neighbor known as Yankee Grable. Grable had borrowed a yoke of oxen from Foley. The latter sent a boy for the cattle, and Grable, for some reason, refused to return them. Foley then went to Grable's and demanded his cattle. An altercation took place between them, during which Foley made some demonstration of a threatening character, upon which Grable seized a stake from a hay-rack and with one blow killed him on the spot. Grable was arrested, indicted and tried, but was cleared. He then left the State and lived a number of years in Missouri, but finally returned to this county, where he lived in Olive Township until his death a few years since. Hiram Brown was the Sheriff at the time, and, after his indictment, he permitted him to go at large upon his honor. The man was worthy of his confidence and appeared at Court at the proper time for his trial.

Ten years later, or in 1858, another murder took place in this township. It occurred at the stone schoolhouse on election day. A young man named Quick had a difficulty with Thomas Kelly at a saloon at Ramessa, and, on the day of election came to the voting-place and an altercation ensued; after a few words, Kelly drew a dirk-knife and stabbed Quick to the heart, killing him instantly. He fled but was pursued by citizens and captured by Mr. Garrett Davenpeck and others. He was indicted, tried and brought in "not guilty."

John McHale Gets Four Months In the County Jail—Minnie Gerhard's Sentence is for Six Months at the Anamosa Penitentiary, Five Months of Which is Rebated Owing to a Confinement for that Period in Jail Here Previous to Her Trial

From Friday's Daily.

James McElhaney was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary by Judge Wolfe this morning, for assault upon Officer James Cole with intent to commit murder. John McHale, implicated in the same case, found guilty by the jury of assault to do great bodily injury, was sentenced to four months in the county jail.

It will remembered that on the night of Saturday, June 23, at midnight, or shortly after, Officer James N. Cole went into Andras Andresen's saloon, at Camanche avenue and Harrison street, to quiet a disturbance in that place. He was set upon by James and John McHale, James McElhaney and William Ryner, and a desperate fight ensued in which Cole was so terribly bruised and beaten that his life was for a time despaired of

Mary McKenrick: Low Moor's oldest citizen

Remembering the past

By Marian Paasch
Correspondent

With nine decades of memories tucked away in scrapbooks and photo albums, Mary McKenrick of Low Moor finds great joy in reminiscing with her family and friends.

Sharing moments of her past, she displays a news clipping telling how her grandfather, Thomas Butcher Dannatt, immigrated to America from Killinghome, Lincolnshire County, England, in 1856.

Near Low Moor, he purchased farmland along Highway 30 for 85 cents an acre under the Old Soldiers Land Grant bill. It was there the Dannatts built their home, where four generations would be born and raised. The farm, just a half mile west of the Low Moor overpass is now operated for Mrs. McKenrick by Dick Evers, but to her, it is still "up home."

In 1922, Mary married the family's hired man, Homer McKenrick. "When he came to work for my father, I knew he liked to farm and decided he was the one for me," she explains. The couple had two children, Robert (deceased) and Clyde, and continued to farm until retiring to town in 1947.

Memories of her past are vivid as she recalls a Sunday outing to the home of her grandparents, the Russells in Folletts. "We would go early in the morning, have dinner with them and then leave for home in time for chores — by horse and buggy, of course.

"Can you imagine a two or three hour trip to Folletts?" Mary chuckles. "That's about the only place we ever went, and it was a big treat to us."

The senior citizen also recalls walking to and from the Tate Country School, once located a mile from the Dannatt home along the highway. "That's when Highway 30 was a dirt road," she remembers.

The family usually purchased its groceries and gasoline at the Low Moor Corners Store. It was Mary's father who offered a 99-year lease to the first store operators, Mr. and Mrs. Brownsfield, who, shortly after opening the shop, were found murdered. The little country store and trucking firm operated at Low Moor Corners until the four-lane highway and overpass were constructed.

Mary McKenrick

As she observed her 90th birthday recently, Mary reflected, "I've had a good life, and I worked hard because I liked to. I never thought of it as work."

That philosophy still carries over into Mary's everyday life as she enjoys helping a group of women make cancer pads for the visiting nurses.

But the oldest living native of Low Moor admits to one frustration: "You know, when I want to ask someone something about the past, I have no one. There isn't anyone older than myself left to ask."

Dear Sally Latimer:

I am looking forward to your visit to Clinton. I will be happy to help you search for your long lost grandparents in Clinton County.

There are several people that may be of help, depending on which area of the county you are interested in.

We have most of the cemeteries listed in the Library. In 1976 a group of people went through the cemeteries and inventoried the existing stones. We have copies of those lists. A few small cemeteries are not listed.

Depending on the period of time you are interested in will make a difference in how we look. We have books dated 1876, 1886, 1901, 1911, and 1976.

We have newspapers dating back to 1865. These are not indexed. We do have an obituary index from 1967 to the present, however, which may be of use.

The Courthouse is located in the City of Clinton. Death records from 1880, etc. Birth Records and Marriage Records, etc.

Again, let me know when you will be in town and we will be happy to help you to the best of our ability.

Sincerely,

Gentlemen:

Several of our families lived in and around Clinton, Iowa, during the middle and late 1800's. In fact, we undoubtedly have present-day relatives in the area.

Does your genealogical society include Clinton County? If it does not, do you know of a genealogical society that could help us.

We are doing a family genealogical study and several of our families, the Chandlers, the Russells, the Cunards, and the Joneses, lived in and around Clinton.

I have enclosed a self-addressed, stamped envelope for your use.

Yours very truly,

In response to your letter dated November 15, 1988. I apologize for not responding sooner.

I checked our probate records and I do not find a William M. Chandler nor a Roxanna Russell Chandler.

I am enclosing a list of the cemeteries in Clinton County, Iowa. I hope this will be of some help to you.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Sharon Knutsen

p 89 (Phelps)
22 Nathaniel Phelps b. England about 1627, emigrated to New England with his father, settling in Dorchester, Mass, with his father, removing to Windsor, Ct, in 1635–6, where he m. Elizabeth Copley, 17th Sept., 1650 She was an English lady.

Says the Hon. James H. Phelps of Townshend, Vt., a descendant of this family: "A descendant of the family of Elizabeth Copley, in England was the celebrated artist, John Copley, father of Lord Lyndhurst, who on the 30th of April, 1827, became Lord Chancellor of England." Lord Lyndhurst appears to have no knowledge of this connection, as may be seen from his letter herewith attached. As this connection must be traced back over two hundred years, there is no reason to doubt the same. Mrs. Phelps died in Northampton, Mass., 6th Dec., 1712, some ten years after her husband. Her will probated in Northampton, Vol. II, 1678–1716. Reference is made to her sons Nathaniel and William Phelps, who are to have the land her husband left her, to be divided equally between them. Her homestead also to be divided between them, Nathaniel to have the side he lives in, and William the other side. To Abigal 50 pounds; to the children of Matthew and Mary Closson 5 pound each; to her son-in-law, Matthew Closson, 10 shillings; to Thomas Copley 3 pounds; to Samuel and John Lankton 20 shillings each.

Mr. Phelps resided on the Orton place opposite his father's homestead, which he purchased of his brother Samuel. Here he resided up to 1656–7, when he removed with part of his family to Northampton, Mass., one of its first settlers. Says Stiles: "He was a pious man of good intellect, and of a sound, discriminating judgment—was one of the first deacons of the N. Church. His homestead was occupied by him for 43 years, and by his descendants until 1835." His homestead comprised the land which was over fifty years ago occupied by Miss Margaret Dwight's school, and which at a later date was the College Institute of J. J. Dudley, Esq., and which is now Shady Lawn. The old homestead stood a few rods north of that edifice. (Clark's Northampton Antiquity).

Although Mr. Phelps, removed to Northampton in 1656–7, we find him paying slip rent in Windsor 4th Jan., 1659.

Feb. 8th, 1679, Dea. Nathaniel Phelps, with his sons Nathaniel Jr. and William, took the oath of allegiance before Worshipful Maj. Pynchon.

MEMBERSHIP LIST - FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH IN PITTSFIELD

Compiled by J. Bradley Cooper

A great deal of information may be gleaned from church records. Unfortunately these are often difficult to locate. Listings of births, baptisms, marriages and deaths are the usual objects of search. A source often overlooked is a listing of church membership at various points in time. This is particularly valuable if the date of membership acquisition is stated.

Very soon after moving to a new locality the eligible family members would join the local church. A knowledge of when this occurred provides a rough indication of when the migration might have taken place.

The church by-laws did not prescribe a minimum age at which one might acquire membership, the single requirement being that of convincing the pastor and deacons of the sincerity of one's belief and its conformity with established doctrine. In the case of legal guardianship, a child attaining age fourteen could specify who the guardian should be. This suggests an age at which maturity sufficient to maintain independent action was considered to have been reached. For want of better criteria, it is a fair assumption that those appearing on the list as single persons were fourteen years of age or older.

In the case of married couples the minimum ages are likely eighteen for women and twenty-one for men at time of marriage. From these data minimum ages can be estimated and corresponding dates arrived at. Such estimates are only clues and require substantiation by harder evidence before acceptance as a possibility. The only certainty is that the person was associated with the church on the recorded date.

The First Congregational Church was gathered in 1764 when several of the townsmen met and took the necessary preliminary steps toward its organization. Listed below are the yearly admissions from its establishment in 1764, until 1878:

SECOND GENERATION.

19. WILLIAM PHELPS, b. England, about 1620, emigrated to New England with his father, arriving in Massachusetts Bay 30th May, 1630, settled in Dorchester with his father, removing from there to the settling of Windsor, with Rev. Mr. Warham's church, in 1635, where he m Isabel Wilson, 4th June, 1645, (another authority says 16th June, 1645—the first may be publication of marriage.) She was probably a passenger in the ship Mary and John, of 1630. Says the O. C. R., "15th July, 1674, now since 29 years married and has had no children."

She was admitted to the church in Windsor, 11th March, 1654, and died July, 1674, without issue. He m. 2nd, 20th Dec., 1676, Sarah Pinney, (the daughter of Humphrey Pinney and his wife, Mary Hull, who were passengers in the ship Mary and John of 1630,) b. Windsor, 19th Nov., bapt. 3rd Dec., 1648, d. 2nd Nov., 1711.

Mr. Phelps settled one-third of his property on her, before marriage. By her he had no issue.

Mr. Phelps's residence in Windsor was a short distance east of his father's homestead, and on land purchased by his father from the Indians. He united with the church 17th Nov., 1639, and was made a freeman at Hartford 29th May, 1677.

His nuncupative will, dated 7th Feb. 1681, gives all his land to his brother Timothy. He died 10th Feb., 1681.

Mr. Phelps was a worthy man, though not as conspicuous a figure as compared with his father.

Mr. Phelps's house was garrisoned in King Philip's war, 1675–1676, by details of Windsor men. He had one of his wife's nephews reside with him, and possibly adopted him, and gave him lands on the opposite side of the road from his own house.

After the death of Mr. Phelps there was a controversy between Mrs. Phelps and adopted son, in connection with the land given her by Mr. Phelps before marriage.

(NOTE—Humphrey Pinney had several children ; of these,

Sarah m. referred to above, Mary m. Abraham Phelps, son of George, Nathaniel m. widow of Samuel Phelps.)

20. SARAH PHELPS, b. England about 1623, emigrated to New England with her father, arriving in Massachusetts Bay May 30th, 1630, in Dorchester, with her father, and from therein 1635-6 to Windsor, Ct., where she m. William Wade, of Middletown, Ct., 9th June, 1658.

Says Savage: "She died 10th July, 1650, without issue, and we can hear no more of her."

21. SAMUEL PHELPS, b. England, about 1625, emigrated to New England with his father, in ship Mary and John, settling with his father in Dorchester, removing from there to settling of Windsor, Ct., in 1635-6, where he m. Sarah Griswold, 10th Nov., 1650. She was daughter of Edward Griswold, and b. Kenilworth, England, and came to New England with her father in 1639. After the death of Mr. Phelps, she m. 2nd Nathaniel Pinney, 21st July, 1670, and had Nathaniel Pinney b. 11th May, 1671, and Sarah Pinney b. 11th Oct., 1673. Mrs. Pinney died 6th Nov., 1715.

Mr. Phelps bought 1st Oct., 1657, Thomas Orton's house and land south of road separating it from his father's homestead, and brother William's: the house stood on the rear of the lot just opposite his father's house. This lot was of triangular shape, 4 rods on the rivulet, 60 rods on east and west road, 40 rods on Mill road, and 47 rods on the southeast line. The rear of this lot and house he sold to his brother Nathaniel, and removed to Poquonock, where he had received a grant of land, and where he also bought John Bartlett's place east of Stony Creek, and north of Thomas Holcomb's, and running east of the rivulet. Here he died 15th May, 1669. He witnessed a deed of land to his father by the Indians in 1666.

January 8th, 1660, he paid rates for short slips, 7 shillings, highest amount assessed that year.

Town Records—24th May, 1669, "There was a day of training; by reason of the death of Samuel Phelps, voted that Benjamin Holcomb supply his place as Way Warden."

(NOTE—Edward and Matthew Griswold, two brothers, the latter of whom was the ancestor of the two Govs. Griswold, resided in Kenilworth, England, where they had a third brother, Thomas. These two brothers came to New England in 1639, in a vessel sent out by Mr. William Whitney. Edward b. in England, 1607, settled in that part of Windsor, called Poquonock, m. 1st Margaret, and later settled in Killingworth, Ct., one of the first settlers, and a prominent man His wife died Aug. 22nd, 1670. (A slab may be seen in the Clinton, Ct., burying ground, 7 in. by 2½ ft., with inscription M. G. 1670.) Had eleven children all by 1st wife. He m. 2nd Sarah Bemis, daughter of James Bemis, of New London; of his children a daughter Sarah, m. Samuel Phelps, 2nd, m. Nathaniel Pinney. Another daughter, Mary, m. P 89

22 Nathaniel Phelps b. England about 1627, emigrated to New England with his father, settling in Dorchester, Mass, with his father, removing to Windsor, Ct, in 1635–6, where he m. Elizabeth Copley, 17th Sept., 1650 She was an English lady.

Says the Hon. James H. Phelps of Townshend, Vt., a descendant of this family: "A descendant of the family of Elizabeth Copley, in England was the celebrated artist, John Copley, father of Lord Lyndhurst, who on the 30th of April, 1827, became Lord Chancellor of England." Lord Lyndhurst appears to have no knowledge of this connection, as may be seen from his letter herewith attached. As this connection must be traced back over two hundred years, there is no reason to doubt the same. Mrs. Phelps died in Northampton, Mass., 6th Dec., 1712, some ten years after her husband. Her will probated in Northampton, Vol. II, 1678–1716. Reference is made to her sons Nathaniel and William Phelps, who are to have the land her husband left her, to be divided equally between them. Her homestead also to be divided between them, Nathaniel to have the side he lives in, and William the other side. To Abigal 50 pounds; to the children of Matthew and Mary Closson 5 pound each; to her son-in-law, Matthew Closson, 10 shillings; to Thomas Copley 3 pounds; to Samuel and John Lankton 20 shillings each.

Mr. Phelps resided on the Orton place opposite his father's homestead, which he purchased of his brother Samuel. Here he resided up to 1656–7, when he removed with part of his family to Northampton, Mass., one of its first settlers. Says Stiles: "He was a pious man of good intellect, and of a sound, discriminating judgment—was one of the first deacons of the N. Church. His homestead was occupied by him for 43 years, and by his descendants until 1835." His homestead comprised the land which was over fifty years ago occupied by Miss Margaret Dwight's school, and which at a later date was the College Institute of J. J. Dudley, Esq., and which is now Shady Lawn. The old homestead stood a few rods north of that edifice. (Clark's Northampton Antiquity).

Although Mr. Phelps, removed to Northampton in 1656–7, we find him paying slip rent in Windsor 4th Jan., 1659.

History tells us, and there is a well preserved tradition of the mother of these children worth noticing—"It is said her lover in England proved faithless to her and married another. She then left her native land to come to this country to relatives then residing in Hadley, the respectable family of Marsh, but in consequence of their residence not being known, or for want of funds, or both, arriving in Boston, was in danger of being sold for her passage-money before relief came from her friends. One story goes that she was sold, but it is well enough without that. Says Savage—her descendants are numerous among whom is Sylvester Judd. She was a woman of strong mind and clear discerning judgment, and is held in great respect by all her descendants."
